urged by the Southern States for their rebellion, and one which had the greatest weight, was the fact of the growing power of the Northfurther hope of security in the Southern States could be depended on. This argument derived additional force from the fact that it was no less strongly urged upon the Southern peo ple than it was exulted in by the leaders of the ultra party in the North. Upon the result of the elections being known, even Mr. Seward, to modify the ran cor of his own party, perhaps, declared the battle had already been won. What immediate foundation he had for such an assertion without the force of arms which the rebels have induced, it would be difficult to say. Our readers will remember that soon after the election, upon resolutions introduced in both Houses and approved by the President, the line of 37° was adopted, which excluded slavery north of it, but acknowledged it below it This was as far as the main body of the states men in the South had claimed as a compre mise, and it ought to have been accepted. Certainly this public act did not show that the election had had any other effect than the accession of a different party to power, and we be cumstances, that would have been the whole result. The "ins" would be out, and the "outs" in. A different party would be in power, with some obsolete notions about : high tariff, a bank, and other schemes of policy that a brief experiment would have

It is commonly supposed that at no tim since the history of the country had there been such preponderance given to free over slave territory, and that, too, by many who have had the ordinance of 1787 in their mouths by which all the territory north of the Ohio was yielded, giving directly and incidentally an empire to the free States equal in extent to Russia. Who when that celebrated ordinance was passed and voted for by Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Virginia, North Carolina, South Caro-Ilna, Georgia (nays, none)—absent, New Hamp shire, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Pennsyva: nia, Maryland-believed that there ever would be any more slave territory admitted? Yet true, after a terrible struggle, Missouri was admitted into the Union. The preponderance of that power had not grown in a quarter of a century so as to prevent the acquisition of more slave territory.

Striking as this example is, it is not perhaps

On the 22d of February, 18i9, a treaty was signed which, in acquiring Florida, gave away Texas. This made new boundaries to the United States, besides cutting off an empire in State of Texas, endeared to us by the prespeople. It dismembered the valley of the Mis sissippi; mutilated two of its noblest rivers and brought a foreign dominion, and is no slave holding to the neighborhood of New Or. leans. It established a wilderness barrier be tween Missouri and New Mexico-to inter rupt their trade, separate their inhabitants and shelter the wild Indian depredators upon the lives and property of all who undertook to

This was signed on the 221, and on the day following unanimously ratified by the Senate It was greeted with applause by the press, ye it gave away not only Texas, but also all the additional territory between the Red river as the upper Arkansas. The most mysterion part of this treaty was that it gave up more than Spain asked; that the Spanish Government delayed to ratify the treaty, and finally lost the opportunity almost, and when it was finally adopted, in 1828, all of the Senate voted for it with the exception of Mr. Benton, of Missouri, Judge Wm. Smith, of South Carolipa, and Mr. Powhatan Ellis, of Mississippi It was approved of even by Gen. Jackson, br opposed by Mr. Jefferson, who laid down the principle, at the time, in a letter: "Not ar inch of the waters of the Mississippi to any foreign power." It brought the boundary of non-slaveholding power to the line of Louis iana, and, practically, to the southwest corner of Missouri. The extension of slave territory had been previously limited, by the ordinance of 1787, north of the Ohio; this cut it off on tirely, except in Arkansas and Florida. We ask if, after these practical results, there was not more reason to despair of the acquisition of any more slave territory in the United States than now? If the same fell spirit had actuated the Southern men then that does now, we might have looked for nothing less than a destruction of all the hopes and inter ests we had in the Union at that time.

We have given this to show that the popula opinion, both in the North and South, that the election of Liccoln rendered impossible the judge by the past, was erroneous; that in ilar crises the Southern statesmen, with wiser knowledge of their duty, and a noble patriotism, have bided their time, and been rewarded by a prosperous nation and increased

Even now, if we could have peace, we be lieve there would be no doubt that every right would be as securely guaranteed as in the past. Unfortunately for us, there is a power at Rich mond and a power at Washington whose fanaticizm and interest alike combine to prevent that peace. When the people escape complete restoration of the Union upon a

The good news has gone forth that the will for raising twenty thousand troops in Kentucky for the defense of the State has passed both Houses of Congre s. This will indeed be glad tidings for Kentucky's brave and loyal mountaineers, who have suffered so much from the rebels without the means of effective lefense. Now let the eastern, the southern, and the western counties arouse. They need no longer carry on their defensive operations at their own charges. GAMBLING IN WALL STREET -Gambling has sumed a new phase in Wall street. From fancy etocks, corn as d cotton, the gamblers have gone into dry goods. "Now you see it and now you don't see it." The Herald of Manday thus records the success of the gamblers-perhaps we ought to say speculators-in their new game: One of the most curious features of the de-angement caused by the war in the usual rangement caused by the war in the usual ccurse of our commercial operations is the turn which speculation has taken amongst our Wall-street operators. They are abandoning facey stocks for faney goods, and now nothing is talked of on 'Change but the price of long cloths and muslins. To such a point is the fever of speculation in this line carried, that one New England house in this city, whose leading partner holds both gubernatorial and military rank, is realizing, by multiplied com-

military rank, is realizing, by multiplied com-missions on the same invoices of goods, more than their actual cost. The great majority of the persons concerned in these operations be-ing capitalists outside the trade, the purch ses ing capitalists outside the trade, the purch ses which they make are immediately reinvoiced for sale, and thus stocks of goods, worth in the aggregate from five to one hundred thousand dollars or more, are daily changing owners without changing warehouse, securing thereby to the firm selling them an amount of commission exceeding their actual value. Some idea of the enormous amount of its gains in this way may be gathered from the fact that it sold the other day a single invoice, amounting to $120,000, at prices exceeding by three hundred per cent, those of twelve months ago. Thu old the other day a single invoice, amounting of $120,000, at prices exceeding by three hun-red per cent those of tweive monthsago. Thu-hese New England manufacturers and comcommercial embarrassments which they have provoked. It is to wonder that whilst such a profitable condition of things lasts they should be anxious to throw every obstacle in the way of a vigorous prosecution of the war. Our present troubles are mainly laid to the account of New England fanaticism. If they were set down to that of New England cupidity they would be conally near the truth.

EXPORTATION OF GOLD.-We have more than once endeavored to impress our public men with the importance of using every means possible to prevent, at this time of our need, the exportation of specie. A gentleman, the other day, was relating his grievances to us in regard to banks. He was for some time engaged in extensive commercial operations in Cincinnati. A crazy man was found in a strip of woods near Syracuse, New York, the other day, baretooted, and without clothing, except a blue shirt and a pair of ragged pants. Upon seeing the person by whom he was discovered, he set off on a run, but was captured after a long chase, bound, and sent to the town poorhouse. He appeared to be about twenty years house. He appeared to be about twenty years of age, and gives no account of himself other than that his name is Samuel Johnson, that he has been five months out from Ireland, and is

THE REBEL WOMEN RECENTLY SENT TO RICHMOND.—The Richmond papers are complaining bitterly of the character and quality of the cargo of women sent from Washington to Richmond lately. The Enquirer furiously demands that "steps shall be taken to protect the community from these characters," and the Charleston Courier says the women behaved scandalously on the voyage, and calls the exportation "an abuse of the flag of truce."

At the same time I had the floor of the bridge planked over to render it safe in crossin should re-enforcements be required on either side, I also telegraphed Gen. Boyle all the in formation of importance and asked him for additional ammunition for infantry and sponges, rammers, sights, clevating screws, &c., for the siege guns. On the 24th, I had taken all pains to learn the real strength of the enemy, which I found variously estimated at from 3,000 to 4,500, commanded by M-jor General Morgan, the regiments by Duke. Messrs. Editors: Still the list of unemployed Major Generals increases; still the people's tax list increases to pay their salaries; still the necessity grows that every soldier should he at his post; and still the authorities at Washington venture on the dangerous policy of arbitrary arrests. The Agent of the Associated Press, Deming, is said to have been arrested for saying that "Gen. McClellan is a good soldier; perhaps a better one than those who supersede him." Stanton and Halleck don't like such invidious suggestions; therefor Deming is put in durance.

"Brutus. You say you are a better soldier: Let it appear so; make your vaunting true, And it shall please me well. For mine own part, I shall be glad to learn of noble men.

If they have a better soldier than McClel-ian, "let it appear so." I wonder if the people and not better quit thinking, it they can't express their thoughts?
Surely, but little of the spirit of '76 survives among us. So little of the spirit of to survives among us. So little of it has been manifested since the advent of the present arbitrary national rule, that the most ganguine patriot must at finies have misglyings for the ruture. O, for the voice of a Patrick Henry, to ring through the land once more, in clarion tones, his deliance to tyranny, "Liberty or death." It needs some such rallying cry to rouse the people from the lethargy into which they are lallen—a lethargy which precedes political death. If a feot pad demands your purse, or a ruffin invades the sanctity of your home, to outrage your family, you strike him dead if you can. But you permit yourself to be robbed of your rights as an American freeman, which are above price—abunit your persons your protection—and still the authors of these crying wrongs walk among us complacently, without harm, and without fear.

Let me recommend to these aggressive public functionaries to turn once more to the A B C of history. If they can divert their attention from their delightful official performances long enough, they may be edified by reading over certain stories about a pair of hoble komans, by name Brutus and Virginius; about Win. Tell and Gesler; about Oliver Cromwell and Charles the First; about Charlotte Corday and Marat; also a certain Judge Jeffries, whose amiable carger was brought to a sudden and violent ending by an unappreciative populace. In the moral of these stories they may find wholesome food for rumination.

Serious encroachments on the vested rights of the citizen should be cheerfully endured when the necessities of the Government require it. A true patriot will give his time, his property, and, if needs be, his life, to defend his country when imperiled by armed traitors or by a toreign foe. But I submit that neither necessity nor sound policy justifies this wholes ale arbitrary dealing with the feelings, the treedom and the property of loyal citizens. Flouting in the face of the known will of a majority of the people, and harassing them for the expression of their opinions in regard to the best mode of conducting the war successfully, is not the best way of securing their support, enlisting their sympathies or of quelling the revolt against wholesome food for rumination sympathies or of quelling the revolt against the Government.

The patriot has a double duty to perform at this juncture, this juncture. He must fight open traitors in arms against the Government, and at the same time guard against the insidious machinations of professed friends, who are aiming to sap

The departure of Governor Hamilton, with a part of his staff, for Washington, on Tues-day last, was very sudden, and not known except to a few of his immediate friends at the time of the sailing of the steamer. In fact, the Governer's decision to go, and his actual departure, seems to have been nearly simulta-neous. I believe, however, that he had some time previously determined to go in the event of a positive refusal to send an expedition to Texas, and that as soon as this answer was re-ceived he embarked on the steamer which was

The Government admitted the importance of the subject and the Governor left New York on the 4th of December, in the full conviction that the day of deliverance for Texas had come, and that he would be chabled at once to gratify the eager wishes of the Union population of that State. THE BLOCKADE AND SEAMEN'S WAGES. [From the Manchester Guardian, Jan. 17.] In order to meet the difficulties which has arisen of late, in consequence of the captures by Federal cruisers, and the loss of time sustained by sailors when taken in attempts to run the blockade, a clause has been of late in serted in the articles of vessels to the effect that the sailor ship for a voyage to unblock that the sailor ship for a voyage to unblock-aded ports only; and when they are taken to blockaded ports against their will and are cap-tured, they are entitled to compensation from the owners of the ships. Three Hundred Rebels taken Prisoners at Rover-Three Hundred Conscripts give Themselves up and Take the Oath. [From the Nashville Union, 5th inst.1

From the Nashville Union, 5th inst.]

We conversed last night with an old acquaintance, belonging to the Third Kentucky cavalry, who left Murfreesboro yesterday morning. Our soldiers are in excellent health and exuberant spirits. Gen, Resecranghas r. covered from his indisposition. Quite a number of interesting events have happened on our front within the past week. On last Saturday Kennett's cavalry, while sconting, came unexpectedly on Wheeler's brigade of cavalry, while the latter were being paid off at floyer, a little village on the Shelbyville and Nolensville road, eighteen miles from the former town. A brief hand-to hand saber fight ensued, which terminated in the complete rout of the rebels, who left on the field twelve killed, about the same number of wounded, and three hundred prisoners in our hands. A few of our soldiers were wounded, but we did not lose a mun. The rebels got paid of in a way they little locked for. We suppose they don't like Kennett's way of equaring accounts. On the same day General Jeff. C. Davis' division entered Shelbyville. A fight or skirmish occurred, but our informant had heard no particulars. We suppose that there were but lew rebels there, On last Thursday one hundred concerns soldiers came in to Murfreeshora, and voluntarily sucthat there were but few rebels there. On last Thursday one hundred conseript soldiers came in to Munireeshora, and voluntarily surrendered themselves, declaring their attachment to the Union, and requesting the privilege of taking the oath. They all live between this place and Murfreesboro. On Friday two hundred more followed their glorious example. They say that thousands of Bragg's army would lean at the opportunity of doing ample. They say that thousands of Bragg's army would leap at the opportunity of doing the same thing. The Tenneseeans are nearly all heartily disgusted with the rebellion, and detest Bragg as a tyrant and a brute. He will, in all probability, be shot by his own soldiers in his next battle, as it is understood that a number of the soldiers have pledged themselves to put him out of the way on the first occasion. Hragg is believed to be preparing to cross the Tennessee river, as soon as possible.

HEADQ'RS 2D BRIGADE, 1ST DIVISION, 1ST ) ARMY CORPS, ARMY OF THE MISS., POST ARKANSAS, Jan. 14, 1862. John W. Finnell, Adjutant General State

John W. Finnell, Adjutant General State of Kentucky;

Sir. The valor of the troops under my command, from the States of Illinois, Onio, and Kentucky, requires that I should make a special report to the authorities of said States of their conduct during the recent engagements before Vicksburg and Post Arkansas,
At each place the men of Kentucky, in common with those of other states, evinced an unwavering determination to do their whole duty, and nobly was it done. Although unsuccessful in the contest at Vicksburg, the capture of this post, after a desperate struggle of four hours, in which the General, and command of seven thousand Texans, eight thoumand of seven thousand Texans, eight thousand stand of arms, twenty pieces of artillery, and a large amount of commissary stores, were taken, was a triumph amply sufficient to entitle the conduct of the troops to the highest ommendation.

It can be said of the Nineteenth Kentucky,

Lieutenant Colonel John Cawan commanding, that the fire of that regiment was so accurate and destructive as to silence the fire of the enemy's battery, and to prevent their sharpshooters in the front from raising their heads above the tons of the rifle visions. above the tops of the rifle pits,

It is therefore with pleasure, as well as pride, that I can bear tastimony to the gallantry of Lieutenant-Colonel Cowan, as well as to the uniform good conduct of officers and men. The loss of the regiment was small; but to those who fell, the honors of a grateful country will be liberally accorded, while the sympathies of all patriots will go forth in screams of comfort and consolation towards those whose hearts and hearthstones are made desolate by the havoe of war. It seems hard to a loyal Kentuckian, that while fighting for the supremacy of the Constitution, and the restorasupremacy of the Constitution, and the restora-tion of the Government, hundreds of miles from his home, the tootsteps of an insolent in-vader should be so often allowed to desecrate the soil of his native State; and if the trusty riftes in the hands of our patriotic soldiers now in the fleid, could be allowed to return to Kentucky, no freebooter or renegad: Kentuckia, could dare again with impunity molest our families or homes.

THE MORGAN COUNTY ARRESTS .- The Aboli tion papers have seized hold of the troubles in Morgan county to make political capital as the commandant understood it. Col. Car-rington, in his card, does not speak of a bril-liant cavalry obarge, and simply for the reason that no such charge was made, and he does not seek to excite the public mind by insinnating that the resistance made was of a formidable nature.
We think it due to the citizens of Morgan county, and more particularly to the persons now in custody charged with resisting the arnow in custody charged with resisting the ar-rests, to give the statement of intelligent and reliable gentlemen from the neighborhood in regard to the matter. The first arrest was made at the house of Henry Armstrong, six or eight miles from Waverly. The man ar-rested was a deserter. The second arrest was of a carolled man at the house of his mother, Mrs. Greenwood, a mile or so from the house. of a carolled man at the house of his mother, Mrs. Greenwood, a mile or so from the house of Mr. Armstrong. Here the party turned the horses laose, and it was thought when they left had taken them along. This caused some excitement, and it was reported in the neighborhood that the horses had been stolen. From Mrs. Greenwood's the party of cavalry went to Mr. Flake's, where, just before day, they fed their horses and got breakfast for the whole party. Day was breaking when they left, and they had not proceeded but a short distance when four shots were fired at them from a hill. They did not return the fire, and did not charge up the hill. It would be impossible for horses to climb up, Robert Hall went out to tea. The Herald's private advices from the City of Mexico are to the 4th of January, being one week later than any previous news direct from the Mexican capital.

The Mexicans complain of their sympathizing American neighbors for sending supplies of mules to the French, and, under the circumstances, have begun to capture them as fast as they can.

The French are gradually advancing to attack Fuebla. The Mexicans are ready for their invaders. General Carvajal is continually on the watch to guard against a surprise. It is said that the enthusiasm of the Mexican soldiery to meet their enemy amounts to a kind of frenzy.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 5. Strange to say, the Richmond Examiner of the 3d makes no sort of reference to the great rebel victory and raising of the blockade, but simply has the announcement, "the New Iron-sides is off Charleston." [Special to the Post.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. General Butler is still awaiting the action of the Government; and it does not seem to be settled whether he goes to New Orleans or not. It is said the decision rests with him, and that be has been offered the command. There is a feeling here in favor of making him secretary of War; and, in a certain contingency, there is reason to believe that he would stand quite a chance of filling that responsible place. sponsible place

Savannah, Feb. 1.—Two gunboats came up to St. Mary's ou Monday. One of the two went up the river and set fire to houses on several plantations. Captain Harrison's company of cavalry fired on them, when they hand out of wares of small came and shell. hauled out of range of small arms, and shelled away furiously. Another boat was landing men at St. Mary's on Tuesday. JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 4.

The names of Glover and Breckinridge were withdrawn to day, and those heretofore voting for them united on Broadhead. But one ballot was taken to-day, as follows: Broadhead, 58; Brown, 45; Phelps, 46.

Phelps has written a letter, stating that he is not opposed to gradual emencination, which is not opposed to gradual emancipation, which has given tise to the opinion that he and Brown will be elected in caucus to night.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to-day, a reso ution was adopted discounten-ancing the efforts of Secessionists and others to depreciate United States currency below per of possesses paying banks par of non-specie paying banks.

An address, in behalf of the North, was read from the operatives of Preston, England. Many hundreds of whom, says the address, express a wish to emigrate to America.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.-The fall in gold, and the recent depreciation of United States stocks, is hailed here as evidencing the confident anticipation of monied men, that the national free banking bill and general measures of Secretary Chase, will be-come laws, check currency inflation, and im prove the public credit. Passed.
The bill to encourage enlistments and enolling and drafting militia was taken up.
Pending the question,
Mr. CARLILE moved to strike out the 4th

Section.

The motion was discussed at length by Messrs. Collamer, Bayard and Doris.

Mr. CARLILE wished to call the attention of the Senate to the question before them.

The objection to this section was, that it gave The objection to this section was, that it gave the President power over persons drafted, and subjected them to the articles and rules of war before they were mustered into the service of the United States, the same as if they were in actual service. He said this very question was raised, and the same objection was made, in the Convention which framed the Constitution. He quoted from "Story's Commentaries," to show that there was a distinction between being drafted and being in actual service, and that the General Government did not have control of the militia till in actual service. service.

Mr. COLFAX reported a kill to establish thirty seven additional post routes, but making no appropriation, which passed without eing read.
Mr. STEVENS reported back the Senate's

Mr. STEVENS reported back the Senate's amendment to the executive, legislative, and judicial appropriation bill.

The House disagreed to the amendment restricting mileage of members to ten cents per mile to and from Washington.

The House directed that a court of conference be asked on the disagreement to the amendmend of the Senate bill.

Mr. WEIGHT rights to reserve the senate of pairs. ence be asked on the disagreement to the amendmendt of the Senate bill.

Mr. WRIGHT, rising to a question of privilege, said his colleague (Stevens), in a recent speech, charged him with advising compromise and conciliation, which, in such a ca-e, was to make a covenant with hell. He denied ever having proposed such action The compromise he suggested was with regard to Legislation in order to recover harmoelous action. He had denounced the rebellion out and out from the threshold, and every man connected with it. He was for vigorously carrying on the war and putting down the rebellion. He would compromise except an honorable one, by which the country could be saved, but not while the rebels were in arms; he was for no compromise except an honorable one, by which the country could be saved, but not while the rebels were in arms and in a threatening attitude.

Mr. STEVENS was very glad to hear this from his colleague. He was satisfied that he had misunderstood his remarks.

Mr. SARGENT introduced a bill disapproving of certain acts of the Legislature of Nevada which require all officers of all mining corporations in the Territory to reside therein Referred to Committee on Judiciars.

The House considered the naval appropriation bigl. An item of twelve millions for iron war steamers was amended so as to provide that no contracts shall be entered into for construction until proposals have been so licited from the principal iron ship bailders, and the dawn.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was still falling last evening with even feet water in the canal, and eight feet over the rocks. The weather is cloudy, with snow all

Business is excessively dull; the only arrivals and departures, in the way of trade, being the Major Anderson, in the Cincinnati line, and the Fanny Barker, for some poiat down the river. The following tow-boats went down over the falls on the way to Cairo or Memphis: Arab, Prince of Wales, Shark, Shingiss, Niagara, and George Albrer-all with tows of coal.

We are pleased to learn that Captain Archer's steamer, the Commercial, will be released from the Government service on her return from Nashville. The ram, Homer, arrived at New Albany yesterday from some point below.

FOR CINCINNATI-The General Eu Il is the mailboat at noon to-day. HENDERSON-The Big Gray Eagle is the regular Friday packet, leaving at 5 P. M. The Nashville Dispatch of yesterday says: The cold weather continues in all its intensity, or nearly so, being a little milder yesterday than on the preceding days. The river continues falling, with about seven feet of water on Harpeth Shoals. Snow began to fall about five P. M. yesterday.

In the orders of the day.

Same—A bill to increase the commission for the collection of the revenue in Jeff.rson county.

Mr. DUKE moved to amend by adding McCracken county.

Mr. SPEED also offered an amendment.

The bill and amendments were placed in the orders of the day.

Mr. BAKER—Internal Improvements—A H.

R. bill for the benefit of the Louisville and Bardstown turnpike company: passed.

Same—A resolution from the H. R. in relations to the collection of the commission of the severest weather of the winter is upon us, so faras cold and ice go. Not a pound of ice could be seen on Monday evening in the river, yet it was full at daylight yesterday, of the heaviest cakes we have seen for a year. It froze all day and last night. The river was full of floating ice all day, and it will be a good deal heavier this morning.

The river was falling rapidly, and has gone down to nine feet in the channel to Keokuk.

The Illi ois is falling rapidly, with ten feet to Lassalle.

Lasalle.

The Missouri is full of ice, and no boats are in

The Lacon is also land up, and not the same development. There is a larger number of boats at the wharf than we have seen for some time, viz: Nebraska, being renovated, and will shortly load for Memphis. J. C. Swon, just through with an hospital trip. She will leave chortly for Memphis and Helena, but will previously be renovated.

THE MYSTERIES OF NEW YORK

[COMMUNICATED.] Wars, national resources, political contests religious conventions, amusements, the Central Park, its swars, gondolas, &c., have been discussed-this letter is of the "Mysteries of New York." In the car, steamboat, saloon, parlor, at dinner, in the street, everywhere do I hear some story with relation to or an inquiry as to the meaning of those mythical words, posted, printed, and advertised wherever I go:

8. T.-1860,-X.

ecompanied with a crescent and a shepherd's hook. A secession sympathizer said it was: "Satan Triumphed in 1860 in granting the Xpectation of abolitionists;" while a Republican said it was: "Stump-Tail Democrats of 1860, gone to Texas;" another, "To the State-Taxes of 1860 and ten (X) dollars," another, that they were the watchwords of some secret society, like, "Sons of Tecumchia are 1860 Strong," or "Seward Tricksters of 1860 Used Up," &c., &c. Well, your correspondent was -had been ill for a long time-in fact, his late suppers had given him a horrid dyspepsia. He read the advertisements, and of course bought a bottle of Plantation Bitters; the Bitters cured him, and on the bottle appeared those same cabalistic letters: S. T .- 1860 .- X. I traveled straight for 202 Broadway, introduced myself to the celebrated Dr. Drake, and was shown the elephant-tusks, S. T. and all-and a great institution it is. A six-story building in Dey-Street, from cellar to garret, is occupied as a labratory for producing this single medicine. Some forty persons are employed; several vats, holding six thousand gallons each, are filled with roots,, herbs and material, and then soaked in water, and the expression preserved in pure St. Croix Rum. I here saw the bags, boxes and bales of Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, and other material-and the original St. Croix Rum puncheons bearing the Customhouse brand. It seemed that medicine could here be turned out to supply a world of invalids-yet these gentlemen are unable to fill their orders for Plantation Bitters alone. I was shown many certificates of extraordinary cures effected by New York. See table for uncurrent funds. The notes of these Bitters. The statistics of the medicine the Bank of the State of Indiana are still quoted at business as presented to the last Congress in the report of Mr. D. S. Barnes, are enormous and startling, amounting to some six million dollars annually. The proprietors of these Bitters will pay Uncle Sam near nifty thousand dollars for stamps this year! With such individual resources, Government loans ought t stand at par, and Jefferson Davis might as well pack up and start for Jerusalem. * * * *

We are happy to reproduce the above letter and add that any ordinary case of Dyspepsia-Liver Complaint, Nervous Affection, Sour Stomach, Loss of Appetite, Nervous Headache, Diarrhea, Sinking Weakness, Mental Despondency, &c., can be cured by the Plan tation Bitters.

That all persons may judge of its efficacy

we publish a list of some of the articles used in its preparation: CALISAYA BARK-Celebrated for over 200 years in the treatment of Fever and Ague, Dyspepsia, Weakness, &c. It was introduced into Europe by the Countess, wife of the Viceroy of Peru, in 1640, and was afterwards sold by the Jesuits for the enormous price of its own weight in silver, under the name of Jesuit's Powders, and finally made public by Louis XVI, King of France. Humboldt makes especial reference to its febrifuge qualities during his South American travels. CASCARILLA BARK-For diarrhes, colie, and

DANDELION-For influmation of the loins and dropsical affections. CAMOMILE FLOWERS-For enfeebled d LAVENDER FLOWERS-Aromatic, stimulant.

Rochester, Dec. 28, 1862.

Messes. P. H. Drake & Co.—Gentlemen: I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia for three or four years. I have tried many if not three or four years. I have tried many if not all the remedies recommended for its cure. Instead of relief I became worse, had to abandon my profession, and suffered greatly from everything I ate. My mind was much affected, depressed, and gloomy. About three months ago I tried the Plantation Bitters, and to my great joy I am nearly a well man. I have recommended them in several cases, and as far as I know always with signal benefit.
